Find Perfect Harmony in Life

It's amazing how small things at home can change our lives.

The design on the tiles in your bathroom can change what you feel during the first few moments of the day. The colour of the living room walls might change your mood every evening. The height of the kitchen cabinets have the potential of changing the flavour of the food you cook.

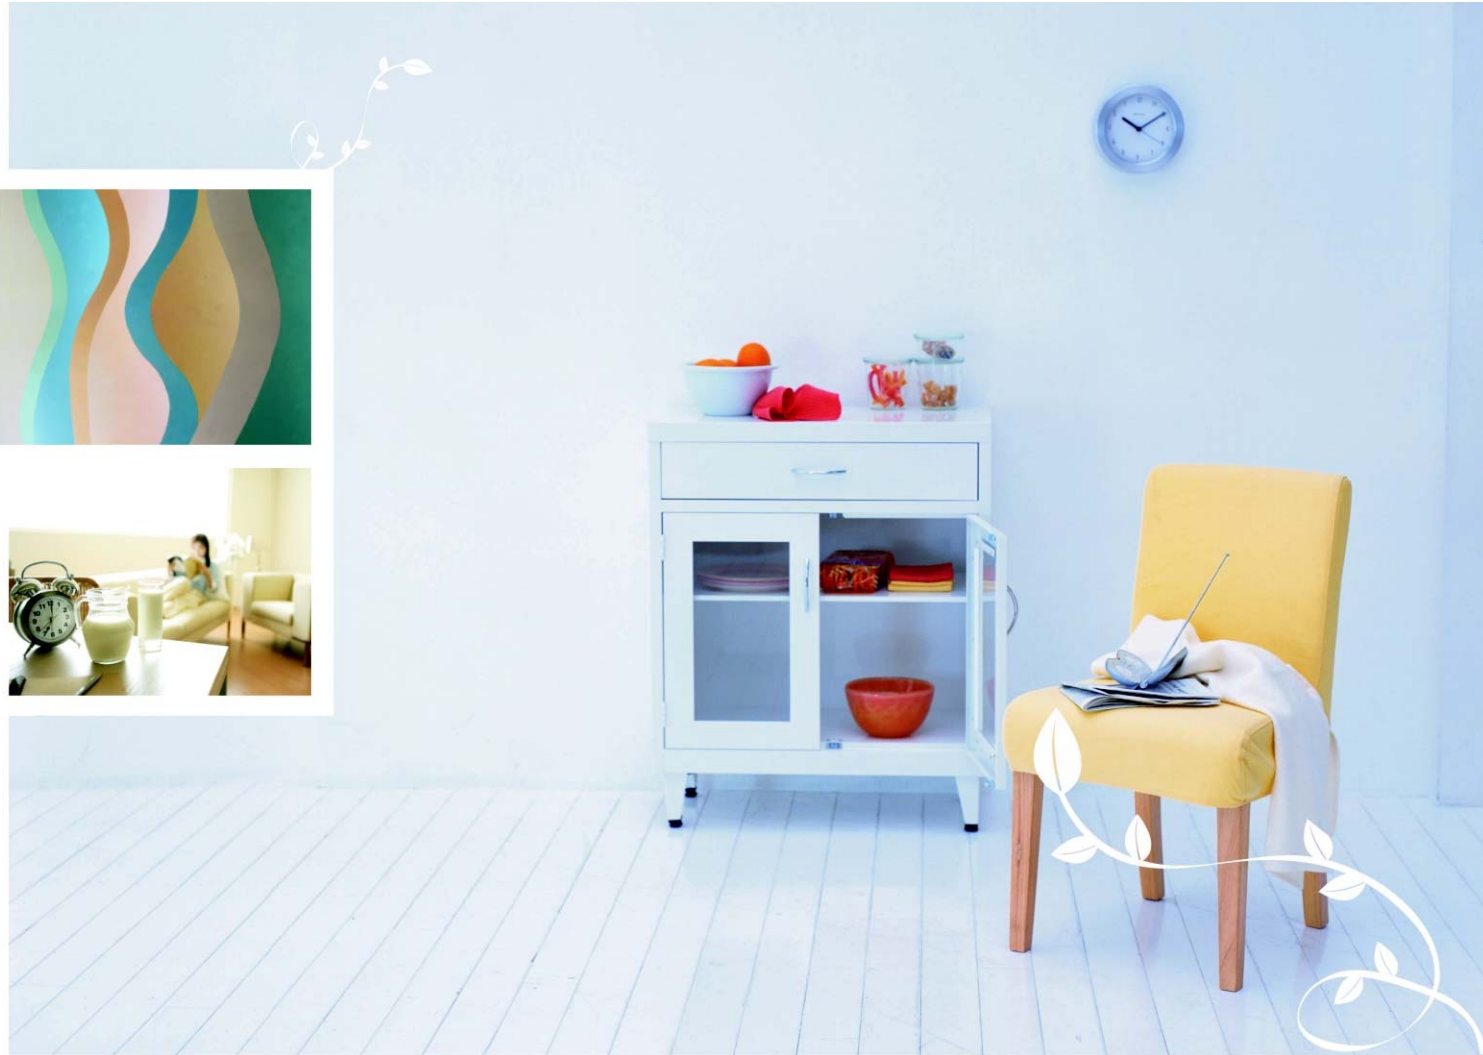

Then there are the big things.

And affect the quality of your sleep every night. Things that will make or break your day. The location, security for your family, the convenience of car parking, the people who live next door. The size and design of your home.

 Harmony is a collage of small and big things hand-picked, to create homes that are a pleasure to live in, forever. To build a neighbourhood that turns into one big happy family.

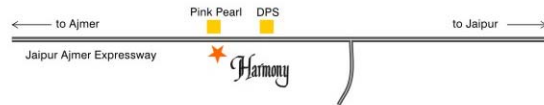

Take, for instance, the location.

Hardly 20 minutes off M I Road, the heart line of Jaipur, you reach your office before the happy feeling of 'home' leaves you. As you start for the city, via the 300-feet, 8-lane Ajmer Road (NH-8), you cross landmarks like Delhi Public School.

20 minutes away from the city, however, also puts you a comfortable distance away from the pollution, noise, traffic and snarls of the city. In a clean, green, posh and intricately planned suburb.

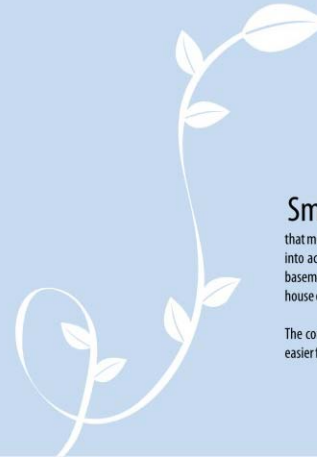

If you were to chance an aerial view, would find your home flanked the trees and greenery. Large lawns, ground for children to play, badminton, tennis and basketball courts, a jogging track and skating rink may also be visible. The enviable sports zone also has a fully equipped gym, table tennis and billiards tables, a card room and a meditation room.

The township is a beautiful little city in itself.

The complex has within its perimeter, a library, business centre, community centre, an essentials Shoppe, a pharmacy, travel agency, party lawn, and a temple, complete with a Tulsi parikrama path. Civic amenities like a petrol pump, banks and ATMs, post office, hospital and a renowned school can be found in close proximity to the complex.

Small and big changes that modern living and the metropolitan lifestyle has brought around have been taken into account while designing Unique Harmony. Ample parking space, including the basement parking, is available for the residents. Besides, the visitors' parking lot can house over a hundred cars.

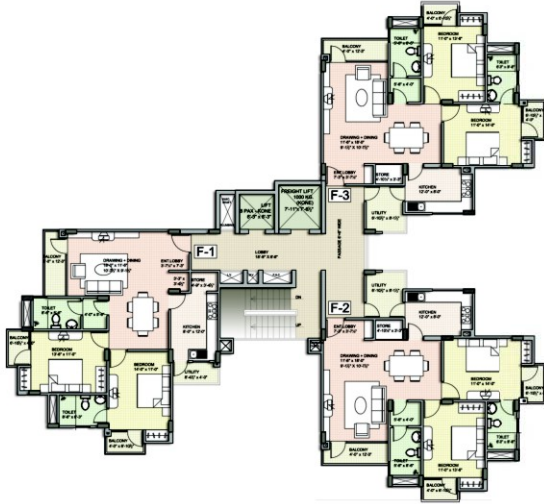

The complex has a 12-hour crèche with a vibrant, homely environment to make life easier for working mothers as well as their young children.
